

The Rebel Speaks

GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGUENOT

Kevin Stitt has signed the new gun law. I can't wait. But, remember, with great change there goes great responsibility and great restraint with it. I don't expect to see western style gun fights in the streets. What I do see is criminals, the average jerk, will think twice before entering into a bad decision trying to rob or assault someone. Or at least one would hope so. Tulsa detective Dave Walker is worried about citizens without training spraying rounds in indiscriminate directions, thus endangering other civilians.

Hell! Tulsa police have been doing that for years in running gun battles all over the city! Where did their bullets go when they missed? "A?" Remember, sometimes they are using AR's... and that, my friend, will and quite often does go through an entire house! That is why it's called a high power weapon.

Never the less, remember, don't shoot 'em in the back because when they are running the other way, the liyers say they are no longer a threat... so, if you shoot them down like a dog, you might end up in jail yourself! So, pack 'em and be careful! And don't shoot til you see the whites of their eyes!!

What do you think? A matched pair of seven inch ivory grip western Colt .45's and fancy fast draw holsters! Spurs might be in order. "A?" In reality, this old Reb would, instead, never clear the holster and shoot myself when my arthritic hands say, "No, no, no!"

Time for this old Reb to ride. The doc is coming out to pull the stitches today. Yee-haw! 'Thanks, Mr. Harris, for the crutches to get around on this broken leg. Well... at least my limp will even out. It's good to sit on the porch and get some fresh air."

"Your angel and the doc are coming up the trail, captain!"

"It's amazing... no one bothers that girl in that big wagon, Mr. Harris. I heard from some of the guys that she carries a .36 caliber navy Colt in her belt and can drive nails into a post at thirty feet! Last year she shot some Comanche's coup stick in half, and then shot off both of his braids. He then negated the encounter."

"You're kidding, Mr. Harris! That's just what I heard! Most of the cowboys around the area are scared of her. Mrs. Harris, love is in the air!"

"Aye, captain, Aye! She still has the braids!"

See you on the bridge!

P.S. Trump goes to Vietnam with the little rocket man. I really hope they can eventually talk that little twerp into giving up those nukes. In the mean time, Nancy PP and Schumeroid are continuing their treason. Where is an act of God when you need one? "A?"

P.S.P.S. This Green Deal the twits propose is just like them... Democrap. I'm not sorry, but this old Reb just got his teeth fixed and I'm not about to give up my Goldie's burger or filet minion for any New York or California moron.

And that's that!!

In complete contrast with liberal government propaganda, more legal firearms in the hands of more honest citizens means less crime.
