

The Rebel Speaks

GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGENOT

My! My! My! Obama-pie is all pissie because they wouldn't let him usurp our Second Amendment. He will keep trying. He will keep bringing forth the crying liberals to make us all start crying and saying, "I'm sorry, here is my gun." Like I have said before, this coming from year of using and repairing firearms: a gun is nothing but a lifeless machine that needs a human to operate it.

Those who decide to murder will do so regardless of weapon or even the absence of such. Just recently, a cook went on a stabbing rampage. Another sending poison letters, and, of course, the bombs in Boston. Criminals don't do background checks. The only check they do is to check to see if you're home just before breaking in to steal your gun... to use it while committing either another burglary or even to manually operate your gun to commit another murder.

The problem can be solved by dealing with these people in a matter of fact way. They kill—we kill them! Very simple. Gangbangers are nothing but horse thieves and murderers anyway. No more lengthy appeals. Just take them to the nearest tree and stretch their ever-lovin' necks. Hunt them down with bounties—dead or alive. Wipe out the criminals, not our Second Amendment rights.

Obama and Janet Napolitano are the reasons we have the Second Amendment. They are arming themselves against us and fully intend to suspend the Constitution and declare it null and void!

The Senate Five stood their ground, but the enemies of our nation are resilient and will return through another back door and another and another until we finish the fight and pry these entrenched liberals out of our Republic—key word was "Republic."

I've had enough of the Nancy PP's and the corrupt, like Harry Reid. You know, they listed some of the most deadly days in American History, all happening in April. I found it interesting that the media would include Waco... considering it was American citizens being murdered by their government, for which no one has ever been tried or even charged for.

The same people are now stock piling arms, ammunition and armor and won't tell us why! Sometimes the murderers and pirates are our elected officials. Wolves in sheep's clothing. The Democratic party is full of pirates, ready to take everything we have and slit our throats in the night. No matter who or, or their station in life, if murder is in their heart, then the modus operandi is not the issue... the intent of that individual is what needs to be addressed—not our stinking guns!

Ever noticed, when you are looking for a good DVD rental, that almost every cover sports some sort of a gun and promise of as much destruction as you can eat your fill of popcorn to? They want us docile, while they abuse whatever they want—and influence our children along the way.

What about that? So, what's wrong? I think you get the picture. Guns don't kill people. The misguided do!

Time for this old Reb to ride. We are going on a raid tonight. Going to get back a little of what Uncle Abe stole!

See you on the bridge!

P.S. Bite-me is calling for a new world order. I expect he intends to be one of it's new rulers. Is it just me, or did Adolf call the Third Reich the "New World Order?" It's really amazing how much alike all dictators sound!

P.S.P.S. The two brothers in Boston are Muslim and were able to acquire everything they needed without any Federal background checks whatsoever. There, I made my point again. More gun legislation will not stop the determined. Only facilitate Obama and George Soros in taking over completely. So, how did you like your preview to Martial Law? "Shelter in place!" The next question is... When do the curfews begin? Do you have your papers on you, in case they ask for them?
