

The Rebel Speaks

GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGUENOT

Cocaine in the White House... golly gee wiz, who would have thought? We heard this kind of thing during the Clintons and the Obamas. I'm surprised they didn't just give it to Hunter; he knows what to do with it. In the words of a famous song writer: "Cocaine! Cocaine! Cocaine!"

No wonder there is so much incompetence in the White House! They are all stoned! Oh, wait, I know! They keep it on hand to clear "Ole Joe's" nose! It should be easy to pick out the users, they commonly develop nose bleeds. The disappear into the bathroom or hidden office space to snort their snow (or sometimes they have to go out to the car).

All I have to say is that they must have had a hell of a great 4th. You know, rockets red glare and all that. Not to mention that China is the source for some of the best drugs in the world.

Do you suppose that when every one of these democommies heads to China to see #11 (Xi), they bring back their allotment of drugs to spread around? Why not? Our borders are wide open. The cartels are moving in, along with every enemy we have! Nothing like being run into the ground by the most corrupt and stoned government in all of our history. Good ole D.C., the District of Cocaine! Anyone got a straw? I feel a snort coming on!

We, the people, are no longer in control of our country's destiny! It has been sold to the highest bidder of Chinese descent. Now they are already lying their arses off about where it was found, saying it must have been left there by some tourist. Oh, wait, it was near the V.P.'s car... I'm having trouble keeping from rolling off my chair with laughter! These democommies are hilarious! They just crack me up!

Time for this old Reb to ride!

"Bring those tow over here and tie them to this post. Well, where are our cows and who shot this boy's father?"

"We don't know squat about nothin'!"

"Well, Captain, at least they can talk."

"Well, Corporal. That's a start. This boy recognized you, said you were there! Mr. Harris, open that barn door."

"Aya, Captain."

"Do you boys see those Kiowa braves there? There's about a dozen of them. If you don't tell me what I want to know, like pronto, I am going to hand you over to them. It seems they, too, have a beef with you and your friends."

"You can't do that to us, Captain!"

"I can, and I will! So, tell me everything!"

"Cap!"

"Yea, Corporal?"

"How did you get Tall Elk to show up?"

"I sent word that I have ten cows and five horses for his tribe. He has no idea about these two horses arses, but it scared the heck out of them and they won't shut up!"

"Aye, Captain! We'll soon have to gag them! Ha!"

"They are lucky. Now they will just hang!

The truth is terrifying and real.

See you on the bridge!

P.S. Janet Yellin is Secretary of the Treasury. What the blazes is she doing in China? "A?" Making a payment? She bowed to her Chinese counterpart at least three times, an unforgivable error that was not reciprocated by Vice Premier He Lifeng. An American official "does not bow," according to Bradley Blakeman, a George W. Bush White House senior staffer. After that humiliation, she continued by make it worse by mispronouncing He's name, calling him "Vice Premier Hu." Eee gads.

P.S.P.S. Joe Biden has informed the world that the U.S. is running low on 155mm artillery ammunition. "We're low on it." Biden has used presidential drawdown authority to send ammunition directly from our stockpiles to Ukraine. This is information that has absolutely no business being public knowledge. Our adversaries are listening and we are being invaded.

By the way, slavery is alive in America. See "Sound of Freedom."
