

The Rebel Speaks

GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGUENOT

Well, time to lighten up a little. Where shall we wander off to this time? I've got an idea. Follow me! There, in the distance... don't you hear it? There, in the wind it goes again. The sound of drums. The voices of thousands. Look, they show themselves.

Brace yourself and look to Odin. For today, you will need him. A bloody day! A Red day! Hold your shield tightly, spear to the front. The king stands firm behind us, his sword drawn and ready. The first wave comes. They slam into our front like a hurricane. I can hardly hold as we fight with all our strength to withstand the storm. Spear tip through my shield as the man attacking me steps on it's trailing shank to pull down my shield. The next then thrusts his spear at me! You have just killed your first Norman as you thrust your spear tip into his chest—that giving me time to evade the next man's blow and take him, then the next and the next.

They pound into us as the mighty waves of the ocean, eroding our ranks, the King himself overwhelmed. Look at him! We must save the King! He goes down, a Hulbert in his thigh, but he fights on. There, another blow. The King is down. We must get him to the boats. Fight! Fight for home! Fight them back! Hold the Normans till we can get onto the ship. They slaughter our kinsmen as we retreat.

The oars do their job and take us swiftly out to sea. On the shore I no longer see thousands of our kind. Empty ships do not leave the shore. The King is dead! And our colonies lost.

Yet, we just survived the Battle of Hastings in 1066 A.D. Our King: Harold Hardrada—King of the Norsemen! Though we will try to take it back many times, for now our battle is done. Feel better? Wasn't that a nice little trip?

The moral to this story is—if you are not strong enough to hold on to it, you will not be able to hold onto it.

Sounds like our Republican Party, doesn't it? Unprepared for the onslaught of what the Democrats throw at them. Unable to adapt to their tactics! Or... unwilling!

So, what am I saying? If we, as a nation, are to stand, we must adapt and conquer! Conquer Liberalization, or should I say Fascism! Marxism! You decide! Whatever, it all boils down to tyranny. Remember, the English suffered under the tyranny of the Norman Kings for two hundred years until the Magna Carta was signed! We then suffered a tyrannical English King until the Declaration of Independence was signed, followed by 10 years of war to be free.

Now more than ever before, the people are responsible for the character of their Congress. If that body be ignorant, reckless and corrupt, it is because the people tolerate ignorance, recklessness and corruption. If it be intelligent, brave and pure, it is because the people demand these high qualities to represent them in the national legislature. If the next centennial does not find us a great nation, it will be because those who represent the enterprise, the culture, and the morality of the nation do not aid in controlling the political forces."

James Garfield, 20th President of the United States

So, stand up. Say, "No," to the tyrant Obama. Say, "No," to the illegal regime he now has surrounding himself.

Time once more to ride. The old Reb has been temporarily attached to Stonewalls's corps. Trying to reorganize after the General's death, we are going to someplace not good at a very accelerated pace. I just got promoted. They gave me a taller horse!! See you on the bridge!

P.S. "Ah!" You've got a huge ding in your helmet! My chain mail is hacked to pieces! Wasn't that fun? Is that your finger stuck to your tunic? "Well," some Norman is picking his nose with the other hand tonight!

P.S.P.S. Janet Napolitano has resigned to be President of the University of California. I wonder what's going on behind the scenes? What kind of yes man will replace her? "A?" Another rat leaving the ship! Not to mention Obama and Biden strong arming other countries to keep them from giving sanctuary to Snowden! The "Wild Bunch" wants this boy real, real bad! What do you think this guy has on them? It must be something exceptionally good.

Wouldn't you like to know what it is before they make him disappear with the evidence?

<http://rebelspeaks.weebly.com> - Check out the Reb's Links Page!

"The Rebel Speaks" newsletter's purpose is to share thought provoking viewpoints and inspire discussion and debate about today's political issues... and make you mad!