GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGUENOT

"Oh!" My! God! The so-called city leaders of Memphis have decided, in their socialist wisdom, to continue the attack on our Southern heritage by removing the tomb and monument of General Nathan Bedford Forrest, a hero son of the south. Not to mention, another capitulation by the state government of South Carolina as well.

Well, like I said, this old Reb went out and got himself a Battle Flag! I have an idea! How about we take down statues of good ole Abe? Here is a question, do you suppose that, since the blacks are now in control, that this is entirely revenge on the already assaulted southern and western states?

I wonder how long it will take Obama to turn on the Native peoples of Oklahoma, of whom several tribes had slaves and participated, as well, on the behalf of the South. After all, there are disputes going on now over rights of descendants of freed slaves! Anyone remember the Ross and Waite factors of the Cherokees? One fought for the South, the other, well... what can I say?

I mean, suppose Obama decides that Louis Farrakhan needs his own casino and comes to Oklahoma and just takes the Hard Rock and says it's part of Affirmative Action? After all, the good old government of old Abe did it before. Anyone ever heard of the land rush?

My own mother has got to be doing a double back flip in her grave, considering she was born in Tennessee. I still have family in Memphis and, if true to colors, they are not happy!

Stalin and Mao had it all erased from the history books and that, my friend, is what is going on right now. An attempt of one group of people to completely erase the past of the other!! Where will it all end? When we are slaves to the blacks and our Muslim overseers?

That blubbering woman in the South Carolina House claims to be a descendant of Jefferson Davis. Well, I personally expect, from my relative, Robert E., that if Old Jeff were here today and standing in front of her, he would probably pull out a pistol and shoot that woman dead!

I repeat, the Battle Flag of the South is the flag of a sovereign nation, still under occupation by the Democrap party for over one hundred and fifty years.

Time for them to go home, back to the purgatory they came from.

Time to ride! After the brief, but not fatal encounter with the Osage, the men try not to stray out of gun shot warning range!

See you on the bridge!

P.S. Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall. Humpty had a great fall. Welcome to Obama's America. Can you survive

Slavery was instituted in the American colonies by Europeans and the Africans who sold their own for profit. America started with slavery under its own flag, the "stars and stripes." Slavery continued to be legal in the U.S. until it was abolished AFTER the civil war. The ever glorified Emancipation Proclamation, dated 1-1-1863, only applied to the southern states, a completely separate and free country at the time, making it irrelevant. All slaves owned in the north, and there were thousands, were not freed until AFTER the Confederate States of America had been subjugated, forcing the issue nation-wide. Slavery was not the reason for the war and has nothing to do with the heritage of the Confederate Battle Flag.

So, without the war, would the North ever have freed the slaves?

America run by Hillary?

P.S.P.S. What about the Jesse Jacksons and Al Sharptons (Al Capones of the Blacks) that sold the peoples (that now riot) into slavery for profit during the rise of the Northern prosperity? Later to be known as the Northern aggressors of the Southern States? "A!" Anybody ever ask that question of Jesse or Al or Reverend White or Louis Farrakhan? A question they can't answer!

By the way, if you want the Reb's Battle Flag, come and get it! Unlike the General, you wont have to dig me up to start a fight!!! I don't know about you people out there, but I have had enough! Stand your ground against these traitors and make them pay dearly for each and every transgression they commit against the American people.
