

The Rebel Speaks

GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGENOT

This week is a special week for me. This is the week my son is being deployed. I won't say where or whom. Loose Lips Sink Ships! You have heard this, of course! Never the less, those who have had or have loved ones in harms way know well.

So, we find ourselves once again standing on the bridge under our first Rebel Flag—the stars and stripes! My family can now add another to the long line of wars we have fought in for this republic and against it. The feeling I get when I shake the hands of men and women who stand between us and certain attack by our enemies is a humbling of my soul.

This is not a feeling that our great president shares. He feels hate and a great nauseousness in his gut, and can't wait to get to the restroom and wash his hands. Smiling and putting on his great performance as if he cared. What a pathetic individual! If only he had a clue (which he does not).

The opportunity to be a great leader, to lead the greatest nation in the world was tossed out with the baby's bathwater, as it were! How can you lead if you are not a patriot to your nation? How? We need a man with true honor and intention aimed at the protection of this nation, with absolute jealousy, to keep this republic safe and keep the love of it's warriors, who protect it at his command!

Mr. Obama, as a president and, I say, a patriot, is a complete and dangerous failure! Now we are all in the crosshairs. Who the hell do they, the rulers in D.C., think they are, anyway?

- Putting our sons and daughters into wars they have no intention of bringing to victory and be done with it!
- Putting our whole country at risk for the sake of power and their own greed as they get more and more control on our lives and drive us all to ruin!

Their shame is our shame, for allowing the D.C. crowd to continue their big con game on us. It has to stop, and stop now! Our great government needs to pack their bags and get the hell out! Slam on the breaks! Take the power back that we were suckered out of; keep our military financed and well supplied.

Beat the crap out of the Taliban and the Al-Qaeda till you can't find one anymore. Then bring our kids home with honor and pride. Then tell the rest of our enemies to "F" off—and if they don't know what that means, well attack us and see just what happens!

I love my son and each and every one of his comrades in arms, whatever part of the world they are in. I am protective of their well being and wish I could take their places to keep them safe. So, I will do my part and keep pounding at the walls of this corrupt government with all the cannons I have at my disposal. It's time for me to go and say a prayer for my boy and all the others with him. May the creator be vigilant and keep America's children safe!

See you on the bridge!

Rightful liberty is unobstructed action according to our will within limits drawn around us by the equal rights of others. I do not add 'within the limits of the law' because law is often but the tyrant's will, and always so when it violates the rights of the individual.

It behooves every man who values liberty of conscience for himself, to resist invasions of it in the case of others: or their case may, by change of circumstances, become his own.

When the people fear the government, there is tyranny. When the government fears the people, there is liberty.

Thomas Jefferson

P.S. do you think any of Mr. Obama's children will serve in our military? And if they do, I am sure John Kerry will be glad to give advise!

"Oops!" I think I just fired one of my cannons!

Stay tuned. A good Reb' never tells when he will strike next!

I am from a long line of rebels... we stood down the British with our first rebel flag—the Stars and Stripes!

<http://rebelspeaks.weebly.com>

Check out our website for reader comments, past issues and to contact us!
 "The Rebel Speaks" newsletter's purpose is to share thought provoking viewpoints and inspire discussion and debate about today's political issues.