

The Rebel Speaks

GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGUENOT

Recently I have found myself speaking to someone about our political developments, and when I bring up the ineptness and the law-breaking arrogance of our illegal regime, those sitting next to me say, “Shhhhh! They might hear you!”

They might hear me? what the hell does that mean? Be careful what I say? Why? Are “they” watching? Both, I suppose, have what they think is a lot to lose! Don’t we all? Each of us, as much as they, some maybe more. You know, when the Brown Shirts were beating Jews in public and no one did anything to stop it—because they were afraid to lose that which they had worked for all their lives! Afraid to become the victims and by looking the other way, somehow they feel immune. Safe from scrutiny. A little story here! There was a man I knew who once told me that when your enemies come for you, not love of your fellow man, not love of money will save you! He told me how he and a friend were running through the streets, stripping off their uniforms, throwing away anything that weighed them down. There, on the curbside, was a woman with a stomach wound, begging for help. Around her neck was all the gold she owned. She was carrying all she could carry of her wealth. She begged them to take her to a doctor, hospital or something. They picked her up and moved her into a spot on the sidewalk, where she was at least out of the crowd of running people, and then they began to run again. Even though she offered them all her riches, they said, “The enemy is coming. It will just slow us down, thanks anyway; got to go! Good luck!” and there they left her, with all her money and gold, to die. They kept running as fast as they could to the airport. If you ever see the picture of a man jumping onto and climbing up a closing ramp on an American military transport plane, moving down the runway and leaving as the last flight to depart Saigon (Vietnam), then you met Thou Lee—escaping the North Vietnamese army in only his underwear.

Prudence ... will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. - THOMAS JEFFERSON, Declaration of Independence

Unfortunately for Thou, he now resides in a Federal prison for firearms violations. But, never the less, the moral to this story is: there is nothing more important than freedom! Nothing! For without it, your riches belong to the King or the State!

Time to ride! This old Reb and some 25 of my boys were caught in a small skirmish this morning on patrol! We’re now running for our lives! It seems we’ve pissed off about two hundred Yankees! All mounted! I think I dropped my gold watch! Screw it! I have an aversion to lead poisoning!!

See you on the bridge!

P.S. When you are running for your life, will you once again say, “Shhhhh! They might hear you!? Spreading free thoughts? You could be arrested! Let the bells of Freedom ring!!! Think of those who gave everything, including their lives, so we can be free!!!

P.S.P.S. The people in question are very close to me. this is why I do what I do, out of love. And knowing them, I can understand where they are coming from. So, when the spaghetti hits the fan, I will stand the line. For I know they will see the light and join me there. Why? Because if you want to keep it, you will have to fight for it!! There was a Roman general who betrayed the Emperor for gold. He got his gold! They melted it down and poured his molten riches down his throat in the Coliseum! Tasty!! “A!!” Someone pass the salt & pepper!

P.S.P.S.P.S. How many lie-yers, I mean lawyers does it take to screw in a light bulb? I promised an answer in this issue. After much research, I have come to the conclusion that the answer is zip! Because none of these lie-yers, I mean lawyers, (all members of the Bar) wants to take responsibility if it doesn’t light up when the switch is thrown!
