

The Rebel Speaks

GOVERNMENT ANTAGONIST AND HUGUENOT

"Ah!" Bill Christianson. Who's party do you belong to, anyway? You and Tom Coburn. Birds of a feather flock together. Both with absolutely no loyalty to their own party. You know, here in the Midwest we have a term for what you are. "Back-shooter," I believe is the correct term. "Oh," traitor is another. "Charlatan," yet another. "flim flam man, yet another.

You know, the more I think about it, the list of terms for what you represent is endless. So used to manipulation of the truth and corruption you just can't stop! I know. Loyalty to ones' own party is just an inconvenience that stands in your way. How is it in the den of thieves and liars, supporting a criminal like Cathy "I vote anywhere I want to" Taylor. If I or any of you out there, who are not Lie-yers, I mean lawyers, did the same, we would be sitting in a federal jail. I thought we are all subject to the same consequences for lying and breaking the law, no matter what our income or position.

Let's see, Cathy Taylor, a tax dodger, left us in debt in Tulsa, up to our necks, over the Great Plains debacle, voted illegally in Florida in a Presidential election—as well as voting in Oklahoma in the same election to elect the criminal and disbarred Obama! That should give you an idea as to Billy's character. Just another back door man. So, what are you, bill? The wheel man, now, for the getaway car? Lie-yers, I mean lawyers, should never be given the power of elected office.

Benedict Arnold (1741-1801)

Arnold was, initially, a hero of the American Revolutionary War and later became one of the most infamous traitors in U.S. history when he switched sides and fought for the British. Arnold participated in the capture of a British garrison 1775 and hindered a British invasion in 1776. The following year he helped the surrender of the British at Saratoga.

Arnold felt that he never received the recognition he wanted, so in 1779, he secretly negotiated with the British to turn over the U.S. post at West Point in return for money and a command in the British army. His plot was discovered, but Arnold escaped to British lines.

He led British forces on raids in Virginia and Connecticut before the war effectively ended with the American victory at Yorktown.

Because of the way he changed sides, his name quickly became a byword in the United States for treason or betrayal - his name has become synonymous with the word "traitor."

Gee, Bill, weren't you made to resign your position on the City Council because of your antics there (by not being re-elected)? So, little Billy is now out for revenge. That's it! Isn't it, Billy? You want revenge, so you became Judas. My advise to you, Billy, is go ahead and follow Judas' example and do everyone a favor.

As far as the Republican party is concerned, don't come back. We don't want you. Betrayal seems to be your best forte! Walks like a duck, honks like a goose! So, what should we call you now? A doose!

True colors are flying up the flag-pole, boys and girls. I think Billy's color is bright yellow!

Time to ride. The General has ordered the execution of a couple of deserters. Got to form a firing squad. I think I will enjoy this!!

See you on the bridge!

P.S. Define honor! Define trust! These are not in Bill Christianson's vocabulary, as well as loyalty! Flip-flop! Flip-flop Bill!

P.S.P.S. Bill—part of the problem with no viable solutions. Unimaginative. And collusive!
